2020 GRADUATION CELEBRATION
SATURDAY, MAY 16, 2020
In 1819, the Reverend Luther Rice, Obadiah B. Brown, Spencer H. Cone, and Enoch Reynolds (all Baptist ministers) set in motion the reality of a college in the District. These men raised the needed funds to purchase land in the nation’s capital, petitioned the Congress for a charter, and began organizing a college.

On February 9, 1821, President James Monroe signed the Act of Congress which created the College. By design of the Congress, a special provision was included which required that “persons of every religious denomination shall be capable of being elected Trustees; nor shall any person, either as President, Professor, Tutor or pupil, be refused admittance, or denied any of the privileges, immunities, or advantages thereof, for or on account of his sentiments in matters of religion.”

The original seal was designed by James Peale in 1821, at the time of the founding of the Columbian College. This is the seal that the graduates are wearing today as medals. The seal features a Biblical lion lying down with a lamb and Greek text in an open book. The Greek translates to “In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God.”

In 1873, the name Columbian College was changed to Columbian University and the seal was changed slightly to reflect this. The Latin text around the outside was changed from “Columbiani Collegii” to “Universitatis Columbianae Sigillim.” In addition, some text was added to fill up the rest of the open book, since the Greek phrase only took up part of one page. In 1905, after the name changed to the George Washington University, the old seal was replaced by a completely new one.

The original Columbian College seal is currently on display in the Memorabilia Room of Gelman Library.
LETTER FROM THE DEAN

Congratulations, Graduates!

This day marks the beginning of a new and exciting journey. As a graduate of the Columbian College of the Arts and Sciences, you now carry with you the skills that our university’s namesake considered essential for responsible citizenship, skills that will help you be informed and effective global citizens. I encourage you to use your studies as a foundation for contributing to your communities and making a difference in whatever field you pursue.

As students of the liberal arts, you were driven by your desire to explore new ideas, to think broadly, be creative, ask questions and tackle new challenges. You took chances, combined your academic rigor and achievement with a spirit of exploration and adventure, and enhanced your intellectual and personal growth through GW’s unique connections across the nation’s capital and around the world.

As a member of our academic community, you worked side-by-side with world-renowned scholars in classrooms, labs and field sites; you benefited from research grants that positioned you to explore exciting innovations; and you took full advantage of our partnerships with the world’s top research and cultural institutions—from the Library of Congress to the National Institutes of Health to the Smithsonian. Because of our location, you’ve also had a front-row seat to history and have experienced some truly special “only at GW” moments. I hope you appreciated your time here as much as we enjoyed working with you.

The relationships you established here will provide a strong network to keep you connected with this institution and the world beyond our campus. Wherever you go, be proud to call yourself a George Washington University graduate. It is a privileged group, one that will reward you both personally and professionally.

Please know that the GW community will always be open to you, wherever and however you choose to keep in touch. I encourage you stay connected through Facebook or Twitter and, whenever the opportunity arises, come back to Foggy Bottom to attend an alumni event, participate in a campus forum or visit a faculty member.

All my best to you as you embark on a future of promise and unlimited possibility!

Paul J. Wahlbeck
Interim Dean
Columbian College of Arts and Sciences
Daniel H. Weiss, The Met’s president and chief executive officer, is responsible for the overall leadership of the museum, including establishing its key institutional, capital, and infrastructure priorities. He was appointed to the position in June 2017, after serving two years as the museum’s president.

A scholar of art history and a seasoned leader of complex institutions, Weiss was previously president and professor of art history of Haverford College, and from 2005 to 2013 of Lafayette College. He holds a PhD from Johns Hopkins University in western medieval and Byzantine art and an MBA from Yale. Weiss earned his BA at the George Washington University and an MA in art history from Johns Hopkins, where he joined the art history faculty and in six years rose to full professor and then chair of the department. Three years later, he was made dean of John Hopkins’s Krieger School of Arts and Sciences.

The author and editor of five books and numerous articles, Weiss has published and lectured widely on a variety of topics, including medieval and Byzantine art, the Crusades, higher education, and American culture. Earlier in his career, Weiss spent four years as a management consultant at Booz, Allen & Hamilton in New York.

A member of the Council on Foreign Relations, Weiss is vice chair of the board of the Samuel H. Kress Foundation, a member of the Advisory Board of the Yale School of Management, and a trustee of the Library of America, The Posse Foundation, and the Institute of Fine Arts of New York University.
Imani M. Cheers is an associate professor of digital storytelling in the School of Media and Public Affairs at the George Washington University. She received a B.F.A from Washington University in St. Louis and an M.A. in African studies and Ph.D. in mass communication and media studies from Howard University.

Dr. Cheers is an award-winning digital storyteller, director, producer and filmmaker. As a professor of practice, she uses a variety of mediums including video, photography, television and film to document and discuss issues impacting and involving people of the African Diaspora. Her scholarly focus is on the intersection of women/girls, technology, health, conflict, agriculture and the effects of climate change in sub-Saharan Africa.

Dr. Cheers is also an expert on diversity in Hollywood, specifically the representation of Black women in television and film. She is the author of The Evolution of Black Women in Television: Mammys, Matriarchs and Mistresses (Routledge/Taylor & Francis, 2017). Her work has been supported by the Ford Foundation and the International Reporting Project.

Dr. Cheers is also a regular contributor for international outlets including BBC, CGTN America and CTN Canada, offering insight into American race relations and popular culture. In 2017, she was awarded GW’s Graduate Mentoring Award and in 2019 the Staub Excellence in Teaching Award.
Zach Hollander, a San Francisco native, transferred to GW as a sophomore. In his year between transferring, he worked as a barista at Philz Coffee and at the St. Anthony’s Foundation, a nonprofit in San Francisco that provides services to people experiencing homelessness and poverty in the city. His passion to address the injustice of homelessness across the United States inspired him to volunteer and subsequently serve as a student leader for EngageDC at Miriam’s Kitchen. In working with California State Senator Scott Wiener and Congressman Ro Khanna, he continued his service and advocacy while also helping craft structural policy solutions.

Since coming to GW, he has consistently combined his academic studies with his dedication to service-based work within communities. As a Presidential Fellow for the Center for the Study of the Presidency and Congress, he examined the historical features of federal low-income housing assistance and how it has fed the country’s homelessness and eviction crises. His philosophy thesis, rooted in his direct service experiences, explored the dehumanization of people experiencing homelessness and the need for political action to overcome a solvable injustice. Through classes and professors in both the Political Science Department and the Philosophy Department, he has been able to attain higher levels of insight into the complex factors underlying inequality and poverty in the United States and around the world. And lastly, he still loves to laugh, appreciate art, and find joy and goodness in the world: since coming to GW, he has been a member of an improv comedy group on campus.

This fall, Mr. Hollander will continue his examination of housing policy, poverty, and inequality at the University of Oxford where he will study for an MSc in Comparative Social Policy.

He would not be where he is without community. Words cannot adequately capture how grateful he is for all the friends, family, colleagues, professors, and advisors who have challenged, supported, listened to, and encouraged him.
Margaret Steiner graduated summa cum laude from Columbian College with a BS in mathematics, concentrating in applied mathematics with minors in biology and bioinformatics.

Throughout her time at GW, Ms. Steiner was an undergraduate research assistant at the GW Computational Biology Institute in the lab of Dr. Keith Crandall, where she studied the genomics and epidemiology of retroviruses using bioinformatics approaches. She has presented her work at several regional and national conferences and has co-authored multiple scientific papers. In 2019, Ms. Steiner was named a Goldwater Scholar in recognition of her research accomplishments.

As a first-year student at GW, Ms. Steiner founded the GW Undergraduate Review, GW’s first and only university-wide, peer-reviewed undergraduate research publication. She served as editor-in-chief of the publication’s first two volumes and worked with the Office of the Vice President for Research to promote support for undergraduate research on campus. Ms. Steiner additionally held leadership positions in the GW chapters of the Association of Women in Mathematics and Pi Mu Epsilon, the national mathematics honors society. She is an alumna of the Elizabeth J. Somers Women’s Leadership Program and the University Honors Program.

This fall, Ms. Steiner will continue her studies as a doctoral student in Human Genetics at the University of Chicago. She is originally from The Woodlands, Texas.

ROBERT W. KENNY PRIZE FOR INNOVATION IN TEACHING OF INTRODUCTORY COURSES

The Robert W. Kenny Prize for Innovation in Teaching of Introductory Courses is awarded annually to a faculty member in the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences who has shown innovation, creativity, and originality in teaching an introductory course in the Arts and Sciences. The recipient, who is among the most talented of our teachers, teaches an introductory or basic course during the academic year in a novel and innovative way. Professors receiving this award have encouraged their students to think differently, allowing them to take advantage of their academic experience at the George Washington University. The Kenny Prize honors former Dean Robert Kenny and his special dedication to stimulating experiences for GW students and his emphasis on the importance of introductory courses as students undertake their studies in the liberal arts and sciences.

DAVID COSTANZA is an Associate Professor of Organizational Sciences and of Psychology at the George Washington University and has served as Department Chair and Program Director. He earned a bachelor’s degree from the University of Virginia and his masters and doctoral degrees from George Mason University. He is also a Senior Consortium Fellow for the U.S. Army Research Institute. His research, teaching, and consulting are in the areas of organizational processes, generational differences, leadership, and culture as well as statistics and research methods. His work has been published in journals including the Journal of Business and Psychology, Personnel Psychology, and Work, Aging and Retirement. He has written for Slate on generational differences and has been interviewed by the Washington Post, Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Financial Times, TIME Magazine, VOX, and Yahoo! Finance. In 2009, he was given the Distinguished Alumni Award in I/O Psychology by George Mason University.

ROBIN ALVA MARCUS is a Teaching Instructor in Writing in the University Writing Program at the George Washington University. She received a M.F.A in Creative Writing from the University of Maryland, College Park, a B.A. in English from Trinity University and is a proud member of the Howard University Alumni Association. Her courses focus on race in America using a number of intersections to activate student interest and research. An active member of the GW community, she has served as panelist, judge, moderator and/or advisor to a number of campus organizations including the Honey Nashmen Center’s Public Service Grant Commission, and The ACE Magazine and has received or was nominated for several awards at GW including the Bender Teaching Award, the Faculty Engagement Award, Professor of the Year by the Black Student Association and the Faculty Excellence Award. A writer first and academic second, her work has appeared in Grace and Gravity, It’s All Love, Black Writers on Love, Family and Relationships, and she has received numerous grants and fellowships among them the Katherine Anne Porter Fiction Contest, two literary fellowships from the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities and the Mary Boyle McCrory Award for Excellence in Writing.

THE COLUMBIAN PRIZE FOR TEACHING AND MENTORING ADVANCED UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

The Columbian Prize for Teaching and Mentoring Advanced Undergraduate Students is awarded to a regular, full-time faculty member in the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences who demonstrates excellence in the teaching and mentoring of advanced undergraduate students. With this prize, we recognize exceptional achievement in one or more of the following areas of work: teaching an advanced undergraduate course, advising students, directing undergraduate research, designing a capstone experience, or mentoring students who achieve departmental honors and other distinctions.

ELIZABETH VAQUERA received a doctorate in Sociology from the University of Pennsylvania in 2007. She recently joined the George Washington University as Associate Professor and Director of the Cisneros Hispanic Leadership Institute. She holds appointments in Sociology and the Trachtenberg School of Public Policy and Public Administration. Before joining GW, she spent almost a decade at the University of South Florida, where she was Associate Professor of Sociology. Her research focuses on the physical, emotional, and social wellbeing of vulnerable and diverse groups, particularly Latinos/as, immigrants, and children. Her work has been published in leading peer-reviewed academic journals including Social Science Research, Social Science and Medicine, and Child Development. She is also co-author of several books, the most recent of which, Education and Immigration, examines the educational experiences of immigrants and their children living in the U.S. Dr. Vaquera is the recipient of several federal grants by the National Science Foundation and the National Institutes of Health.
THE LUTHER RICE UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS

Established by the Dean of the Columbian College in 2003, the Luther Rice Undergraduate Research Fellowships are designed to encourage and support research projects initiated by undergraduate students and performed under the mentorship of faculty sponsors. Luther Rice, one of four founders of the original Columbian College, which grew to become the George Washington University, was known for his tenacity of spirit and integrity of intellect. In this spirit, the Luther Rice Undergraduate Research Fellowships are intended to support critical inquiry and intellectual honesty through practical support of student research.

The recipients are:
Melissa Baker  Claire J. Houchen  Noelle K. Purcell  Rowan M. Sherwood
Sarah M. Beethe  Berkley B. Lane  Christopher W. Reid  Mikaela Stine
Gavin Derleth  Mark McKibbin  Sarthak Shah  Lily I. Werilinich

OFFICE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT FOR RESEARCH AND THE OFFICE OF THE PROVOST—GW UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH AWARD

The Undergraduate Research Award, sponsored by the Office of the Vice President for Research (OVPR) and the Office of the Provost, seeks to promote discovery and inquiry-based education during the undergraduate experience at GW. The Undergraduate Research Award offers support for undergraduate student-initiated research carried out in collaboration with, and under the guidance of, at least one faculty member. Students who are awarded this research award have undertaken a significant, focused examination of an idea or an area of inquiry, which has resulted in work that could merit presentation or publication in a scholarly venue.

The recipients are:
Cyrus Behzadi  Christianna House  Ivana Mowry-Mora

UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES AWARD

The CCAS Office of Undergraduate Studies has launched its inaugural annual prize to an outstanding graduating undergraduate student. This award recognizes innovation and leadership in community service and/or activism and academic performance.

The 2020 recipients are:
Zaniya Lewis  Emmah Evangelista

Honorable Mentions:
Stephanie Braddock  Samantha Cookingham  Christianna House

* DOUBLE MAJOR  † DOUBLE DEGREE

The celebration program is meant to be a guide to the ceremony. Although every effort has been made to ensure its accuracy, the program is not an official record of an individual's degree status. The Office of the Registrar of the university maintains the official list of all graduates.
Dear Graduate:

On behalf of the Columbian College National Council for the Arts and Sciences, I offer my congratulations on your significant achievement and welcome you to the George Washington University alumni community.

As an alumnus of this great institution, I can fully appreciate the excitement of this very special moment in your lives. You are now a member of a select group of accomplished individuals, bonded by a college for which you will forever be proudly associated. I encourage you to remain involved in the life of the university and become engaged in activities of interest to you. The opportunities to make a difference are endless—from becoming an active member in the Alumni Association and organizing regional and local alumni events, to mentoring a student, offering services as a career advisor or guest lecturer, and providing philanthropic support.

My work as a volunteer in the National Council—which is comprised of alumni, parents, and friends who advise the Dean of the Columbian College—has been an incredibly rewarding experience for me. I hope you find similar avenues of engagement and have a role in advancing GW’s promise and potential.

Finally, we recognize your time here has required a high level of personal dedication and financial commitment. We are grateful for your investment and hopeful that your degree will lay the groundwork for future success in whatever career you choose to pursue.

Again, congratulations! It is both an honor and a pleasure to welcome you as a graduate of the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences.

Sincerely,

Benjamin Klubes, Esq., B.A. ’87
Chair, Columbian College National Council for the Arts and Sciences

ALMA MATER

Hail alma mater, to thy spirit

guiding, Knowledge thy closest friend in its strength a-bidding, Pledge we fidelity ne'er its place resigning, Hail thee George Washington.
